

Dear Sirs:

I am alarmed to find out that the NAB has a petition, 04-160, proposing the limitation of what may be broadcast on XM Satellite Radio. I am saddened that such a violation of free speech could even be considered. I have been a very happy customer of XM Radio's services for the past 3 years, and receive the majority of my news, weather and traffic, and music enjoyment from their stations. Limiting what they are allowed to broadcast would be limiting me from seeking a diverse array of information. Since our society was based on free speech, I do not see how anyone in good conscience could consider such a proposal. The choices available on normally broadcast FM stations have long been meager, and to hear local traffic and weather information, the consumer must frequently endure hours of inane chatter and low brow humor from local djs. I am thrilled that XM has offered more choices and I will continue to support them. I hope that the FCC will realize that satellite radio is offering a choice to consumers that has long been overdue, and will quickly reject the petition to limit the programming available on satellite radio.

Sincerely,
Lisa Leighton
